V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	5, 6, 8, 9, 10	YES
	Claims	1-4, 7, 11, 12	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	5, 6, 8, 9, 10	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-12	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

This report makes reference to the following document:

D1: US-A-3 767 085

1. The present application does not meet the requirements of PCT Article 33(1) because the subject matter of claims 1 and 12 is not novel (PCT Article 33(2)).

1.1 Document D1 discloses (see column 3, lines 5-10, and line 67 to column 4, line 3; and figure 1) a device for dispensing a mixed multiple-component compound, in particular for dental purposes, from a cartridge (20) having a plurality of component containers (21, 22) out of which the components are pressed into a mixing nozzle (80) placed upon the cartridge by the displacement of a plunger arranged in each of the containers, and then discharged from the nozzle, the device comprising a holder (10, 50) for the cartridge and a holder ("collar" 53) for the mixing nozzle (80) connected to the holder (10, 50) for the cartridge (20), it being possible to connect the nozzle to the cartridge (20) by means of the holder (53) for the nozzle. D1 states (column 4, lines 45-48, and figure 1) that the holder ("collar" 53) can be screwed onto the parallel guide ("cap" 50). For this reason, the holder ("collar" 53) is mounted so as to be movable in the axial direction on the parallel guide ("cap" 50). The subject matter of claim 1 is therefore not novel.

- 1.2 The same argument applies to independent claim 12.
2. Dependent claims 2-4, 7 and 11 do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the PCT novelty or inventive step requirements.
 - 2.1 Claims 2, 3, 4 and 11: see D1 and the corresponding passages cited in the search report.
 - 3.2 Claim 7: in D1 (figure 1), the "collar 53" could also be regarded as a holder for the mixing nozzle, since it is screwed on the holder (50) for the mixing nozzle. That "collar 53" is movable in the longitudinal direction of the device.
4. The combinations of features in dependent claims 5 or 8 are neither known from nor suggested by the available prior art.
 - 4.1 None of the citations shows a device having a holder (for the mixing nozzle) mounted so as to be movable in the axial direction on a parallel guide, it being possible to insert and to remove the mixing nozzle transversely to the longitudinal axis of the device. This solution secures the mixing nozzle better against axial forces.

The subject matter of claims 1 and 5 is therefore novel and inventive (PCT Article 33(2) and 33(3)).

Claims 6, 9 and 10 are dependent on claim 5 and thus likewise meet the PCT novelty and inventive step requirements.

- 4.2 None of the citations shows a device having a holder (for the mixing nozzle) mounted so as to be movable in the axial direction on a parallel guide, it being possible to adjust the holder for the mixing nozzle by means of a lever. This solution makes it possible to attach the mixing nozzle quickly and easily to a cartridge.

The subject matter of claims 1 and 8 is therefore novel and inventive (PCT Article 33(2) and 33(3)).

Claims 9 and 10 are dependent on claim 8 and thus likewise meet the PCT novelty and inventive step requirements.
